From the Principal

Head of the River

The Head of the River was held on Saturday last in near perfect conditions at West Lakes. Pulteney was well represented throughout the day with many crews, enthusiastic supporters on the banks, the Drum Corps at full throttle and our parents incredibly supplying food, and shelter under the Pulteney tent, and great company.

There were many highlights, however, I am always in awe of the remarkable standards of behavior and example that our senior crews set for the other rowers. Our 1st VIII Girls have been under injury pressure for the entire season. I think I am correct in writing that they have only rowed once as a full complement since just after Christmas, and not since the start of the term. Therefore, their B Final victory was against all the odds. All the young women of this crew deserve the wildest acclaim and the School, as am I, are very proud of them. Similarly, the example of the boys’ crew was full of character and endeavour. They have also not been without obstacles to overcome and a fine performance in the A Final should be a lasting memory of a successful and fulfilling season.

The presence of so many Old Scholars was also a highlight of the day and the number of young coaches bringing out the very best in their protégés was especially pleasing to see. I take this opportunity to thank all the coaches and, particularly, Richard Sexton, as the Rowing Coordinator; in his first year of this role he has shown passion and support for all involved. In passing, too, I thank Andrew Beer, as President, and the Committee, whose tireless work, early mornings and support for the rowers has been sensational. Finally, to Andrew Swift, thank you and bon voyage. Your eleven years of rowing coaching is, for now, at an end. The Boat Club is hopeful you will one day return. You will be missed.

I must also mention the Rowing Presentation dinner that followed the regatta on Saturday night. Held in Wyatt Hall the presentation of each crew was marked by any number of eloquent and humorous speeches by the coaches and the respective responses from the leader of each crew. Isaac Manuel and Sally McLoughlin were notable speakers, among many, in what was a very enjoyable evening.

Co-Ed Cup

The Co-Ed Cup is the culminating athletics carnival for South Australian metropolitan schools with competition at Santos Stadium. The School participated in this event yesterday with outstanding results on both the track and the field winning both the girls’ and boys’ competitions against eight other schools. This was a fantastic effort by those Pulteney athletes competing and allows the School to move into the B division schools next year.

While I was only there for an hour; and during the middle distance events, I know there were some brilliant performances throughout the day-long carnival. I was privileged to watch the Open 1500m races of Demi Axford and Matt Zuill with both winning handsomely through courageous front-running. I believe, too, that Nick Laity’s 1500m, recording a very swift time of 4 minutes 50 seconds, left his fellow competitors nearly 200m adrift in the tussle for second. I must also mention the crazy-brave 400m run of Cartia Borrelli. Racing from the outside lane, Cartia set a maniac pace over the first 200m and showed tremendous tenacity to run out the distance with a swag of other girls left in her wake, all exhausted in trying to match her blistering start.

Congratulations to all the students who represented the School; you have delivered a resounding success.

Pulteney Business Breakfast

I couldn’t allow the approaching end of term to absorb the clarity of my memory of the riveting speech by Lt Col. Jack Gregg last Friday at the Chifley. Jack’s recollection of experiences as a senior officer in Afghanistan and Iraq made for compelling listening. I am certain all those present shared my incredulity to hear of the actions of front-line Australian men and women. Jack’s informative view of military sophistication and technology was another feature and an utterly engrossing, captivating and humour-laden hour sped by. We are all hopeful that Jack may grace us again with his presence at the School.

Appreciation to Bob Gigney

The quality of our weekly PRW is made not only possible due to the scope of the activities the students generate across the School but their recording and display by the compiler of the PRW, Bob Gigney. While I anticipate Bob will try and use editorial rights and wish to delete this praise of his work, that would only be expected of someone who gives us all, each week, an enjoyable and action-packed read. Thanks Bob.

Pulteney War Memorial Room

Appropriately, the day after Anzac Day, Friday April 26th, the Pulteney War Memorial Room will be launched. Commencing at 4.30pm at the front of Wheaton House, Pulteney will host many Old Scholars who served for Australia and their families. Pulteney lost 111 Old Scholars in various conflicts, the equivalent of a complete year level today.

I would like to invite members of the school community to attend and further details can be sourced from Ashton or Cate in Community Relations.

The Break Ahead

I wish the students a well-earned break from the daily routine of School at the end of this week. I hope that the two weeks will be spent with family and that the senior students manage to find a fulfilling routine to complete pending work. For the senior netball and softball teams, I wish them a brilliant time during their trip to Perth. Playing three games and a voyage to Rottnest Island, as well as enjoying the sights of beautiful Perth, should provide many memories to share. I thank everyone for making this a very good term for the School.

Dr Eddie Groughan

Should any matter draw attention from this article or any other matter arise relating to the School please do no hesitate to contact me at either principal@pulteney.sa.edu.au or 8216 5502.
From the Chaplain

“What is truth?” This may seem like a question reserved for post-modernist philosophers, but it is a question that sits at the heart of any school. At Pulteney Grammar our students learn to give true descriptions of the physical world. We want our students to understand the truths expressed in art, literature and social interactions and more...

“What is truth?” is hardly a new question. Pontius Pilate spoke these words 2000 years ago (John 18:38). He had the difficult task of working out how to deal with a local troublemaker called Jesus of Nazareth. But instead of taking on the challenge, Pilate washed his hands of the issue.

It’s worth noticing that Pilate has come down to us as one of the most reviled people in history. His decision to wash his hands of the search for truth has not been hailed as a great example of tolerance, but rather as a cop-out. The person who sits on the fence can look balanced at first, but over time the fence-sitter often ends up with little more than splinters.

All truth statements are provisional, tentative. I hold a certain view on any topic because it makes sense of all the information that I have. If I learn new information, or if some old data is corrected, then I may change my view. I’ll never have all the information, but if the evidence points overwhelmingly in one direction, then the wise person will eventually say with humility, “I believe…”

The early Christians came to that conclusion and came up with a familiar form of words: “I believe in God, the Father Almighty, creator of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord.”

What a glorious day on Saturday for the culmination of the rowing season, the PAC Head of the River Regatta. Thank you to so many of the school community who ventured west to take on the parking inspectors and support the rowers, many of whom have been in training since September last year! Special mention to Dr G, Paul Ryan, Michael Holmes, Mark Bourchier and Kirsty Raymond, all of whom were able to stay for most of the day. Extra special thanks to Bob Gigney for his attendance yet again and his production of the slide show for Saturday night’s dinner. Bob has been at many regattas as well as at both camps and his outstanding images speak of his love of the sport and the kids who participate.

Pulteney crews again acquitted themselves admirably, some had a heat and final while others raced a single final on the day. The level of endeavour was inspirational. Junior rowers rowed their hearts out and the boys C crew came so very close - again! The Intermediate girls again raced their hearts out finishing third but winning the respect of their opponents over the course of the season - congratulations girls. Intermediate boys were again strong and turned in an honest effort drawing on all their experience from the season. This group promises much for the season ahead.

Our Senior boys unfortunately did not produce their best race on the day but ‘emptied the tank’ for the school in a highly competitive field posting a respectable time of 6:26. Our senior girls too should be very proud of the way they finished their season - for most of the second half of the season the crew has been smashed by injury so to front up for a heat and to win their B Final on the day is a massive credit to these girls and their coaches who have been riding the roller coaster with the rowers!

The HoR Dinner was brilliantly supported by the rowing community and school representatives. To see and hear the thoughts and emotions of coaches and rowers as they reflected on their season was a touching insight and produced many memorable moments. Congratulations to award winners; Ruby Genborg, Bridie Rawson, Matt Hume, Joel Case & Sally McLoughlin, the boys year 8/9C crew and the girls year 9/10A crews - congratulations to everyone especially those year 12 rowers who have now completed their school rowing journey.

Head of Sport
National Youth Science Forum

Applications are invited from Year 11 students for the National Youth Science Forum to be held in January 2014.

The 12-day NYSF Program enables participants - students about to start their final year of high school - to “test drive” and make informed decisions about courses and careers in science. Participants gain an insider’s view of campus life and how university study connects with careers. Workshops and field trips provide hands-on experience in real projects with top research scientists and engineers from industry and major research institutions.

Above all, the students build friendship links and networks that will continue through their studies and far into their later professional and personal lives!

Two sessions run at the Australian National University in Canberra, and a third at the University of WA and Curtin University in Perth. Each offers 144 places to students drawn from all parts of the country - plus a small number of International students. Each applicant has opportunity to indicate which of the three sessions they would prefer to attend though places on each are limited. Whichever session students attend, they are guaranteed a comparable experience of the widest arrays of science and engineering in the country.

Through 2013, participants are offered further seminars in other cities - plus the chance to seek a place on one of eight International youth science programs.

Information leaflets and other information, including Application Forms, are available online at the website: http://www.nysf.edu.au

Applications for January 2012 will close on 31 May 2013.

The first step in the process of applying for NYSF is to find a Rotary Club to sponsor your application. If you do not have access to a Rotary club, please feel free to contact Mr Wilson, Head of the Arts, who will be happy to help. As President of the Makin Edge Rotary Club, TeaTree Gully for 2013 - 14 he and his club have a strong focus on supporting excellence and training for youth and are looking for candidates for this wonderful program.

The Junior Art Centre is run by Anna Mahoney and each term an Art newsletter is uploaded with student work to the Learning Platform. This is a great way to share photos of student work to parents and the wider Pulteney Community. If you want to see what the students have been doing check out the Junior Art Centre page or click the link: http://tinyurl.com/cmocho8

YouTube at Pulteney:

The first Kurrajong videos have been loaded up onto YouTube and then embedded into the Learning Platform. Only members of the Pulteney Community with a logon to the Learning Platform can gain access to these videos, to protect the privacy of the students. Currently the only videos that have been uploaded are voiced over student book creations, but as we develop skills and confidence in publishing online, we expect to further exploit YouTube as a Web 2.0 teaching tool in all sections of the School.

Careers Corner

Website information for exploring post-school options

If they haven’t already started, Year 12 students may like to begin exploring their options for 2014 and beyond. Whilst it is important students concentrate on their studies to ensure they have the best possible outcomes from their Year 12, the upcoming holiday time provides a little respite from the day to day pressures of being at school and therefore an opportunity to explore some options. Below are several websites, which students (and parents) may find useful, when exploring pathways for their future.

Entry into Medicine, Dentistry and other health related areas (UMAT).

Year 12 students interested in applying for Medicine, Dentistry and other related health courses are advised that they are required to sit the UMAT test on Wednesday 31st July 2013. The UMAT is a test that is used for entry into medicine and related courses in Australia and NZ. A number of organisations offer UMAT preparation courses, and details of these courses are available in the Careers Office. Students are required to do their own research into which course, if any, they wish to complete. Many previous Pulteney students have completed UMAT preparation courses; however, it is the opinion of ACER (the UMAT test developers) and the Universities, that preparation tests are not required. UMAT applications are now open and students MUST register if they wish to sit the UMAT. Registration closes on Friday 7th June. Details of the UMAT, and courses that require it, can be found at www.umat.aceredu.au.
Introduction to VET Music – Saturday 27th April

The ‘Introduction to Vet Music’ school holiday workshop is open to students in Years 9 – 12 who are interested in a career in music or who would like to explore VET options for studying music. Students are invited to attend on Saturday 27th of April at 12:00 pm – 4:00pm at the Australian Academy of Rock, 50 Payneham Road, Stepney. On the day, students will have an opportunity to meet the trainers, learn more about the music industry and gain insight into music pathways and music career options. Students will also be able to find out more information about our Music VET Certificate Courses. Please contact Vanessa at ‘Learning Music Australia’ on 83954993 or email your name and phone number to vanessa@learningmusicaustralia.com.au to book into the workshop.

Bond University Scholarship Information Night – Monday 13th May

Students interested in applying to Bond University are advised that applications are now open. Each year, Bond University offers a 50% Collegiate Scholarship and a 50% Leadership Scholarship to two Pulteney Year 12 students. Year 12 students have been emailed detailed information about the process of application for these two scholarships, which involves an online application to Bond University and also an internal school application. Bond University also offer a number of full-fee and part-fee scholarships to Australia's best and brightest students. To learn more about Bond University, FEE-HELP, financing a degree and the scholarships on offer, parents and students are invited to attend an Information Evening on Monday 13th May, 6.30 – 8.30pm at the Adelaide Hilton.

In addition to attending the information night, students wanting to apply for the many Bond University scholarships online are encouraged to go to http://www.bond.edu.au/scholarships to explore their options. If applying to Bond University, students will need to attach the following information to their application:

- a recent photograph
- their full resume
- all supporting documentation outlined in the selection guide for each scholarship
- certified copies of school reports and academic transcripts

Students will also be required to provide a letter of reference from a nominated person from Pulteney. Applications for all bond university scholarships close on Wednesday 31st July. The Admissions Manager for SA is Mr Matt Stubbert and he can be contacted by email at mstubber@bond.edu.au.

Bond University Film & Television Awards (BUFTA)

Bond University offers Year 11 and 12 students the opportunity to win a full tuition scholarship to study the Bachelor of Film & Television. The scholarship is awarded to the successful applicant in the BUFTA competition – a competition requiring the applicants to submit a short film. Entries open shortly and are accepted until mid October. For more details, including selection criteria, go to www.bufta.com.au.

Have a great week.
