From the Principal

Business Breakfast
A special event occurring this Friday demands your attention. Lieutenant Governor Hieu Van Le, AO, is the guest speaker at our Business Breakfast at The Chifley Hotel.

Hieu, a past Pulteney parent will share his remarkable journey as a refugee from Vietnam to his appointment to head SA’s Multicultural and Ethnic Affairs Commission and subsequently to his position as Lieutenant Governor of South Australia.

Members of the Pulteney community who have heard Hieu’s oration in the past will testify that he is a passionate and highly motivating public speaker with an amazing story to impart.

At $45 including a hearty cooked breakfast, this is an event not to be missed. As we go to press there are only 29 seats remaining.

Confirmation Service
Last Friday’s Confirmation of eleven students in the Robert Henshall Sports Centre was well attended by parents, sponsors and the School’s senior school students and staff. The Confirmation of the students by the Archbishop, the Most Reverend Dr Jeffrey Driver, brings the community together to celebrate our Anglican foundations and the vision of the School’s founders one hundred and sixty-six years ago. In particular, the Archbishop, most often an attendee at the Speech Night in the Town Hall each year, by his presence at the Confirmation Service the School enabled many of the students to see and hear him in the School itself.

The School was also glad to see Reverend David Thornton-Wakeford and Reverend Andrew Mintern. David, a recent past Board Governor and prominent member of the Pulteney community, enjoyed his return to the School and the Chapel. Andrew, who is currently on the Board, continues to be a motivating force in the work of the Board and his guitar playing at such events in the past is still missed!

I thank, too, the School Chaplains, Reverend Sonya Paterson and Michael Lane for their organisation. Also, the Grammarphones were superb. For the students who were confirmed my congratulations and gratitude to the middle school students who spoke, at the lectern, during the Service, as well as those who aided with drinks and savouries after the Service.

Congratulations to Reverend Sonya
The announcement of Sonya’s appointment to the Parish of Plympton was notified to our community on Sunday. The School wishes Sonya the very best for the future but is fortunate she will be with us until the end of the year. As many may recall, Sonya joined the School during the discussions surrounding Annesley College’s possible link with Pulteney. It would be

Chemical Analysis Competition
I wish the three Pulteney teams of Year 11 Chemistry students who will compete in the Grand Final of this national competition all the best. They will be competing with over 100 teams from schools throughout Australia. To reach this level is an achievement in itself. David Shultz has more details later in this edition.

Preptacular
In the incredible series of performances that have flowed this term, yet another highlight of the School year is upon us. Each year the Preptacular brings the talents of the Prep School children to the wonderful setting of the Adelaide Town Hall. The occasion is one of my favourite evenings and I wish all the students and Mrs Cullity every success for Monday evening.

Overseas Adventures
This weekend the students and staff bound for Germany and Nepal leave Australia. These exciting overseas experiences, one to a dynamic first world nation and one to a nation that is developing, provide Pulteney students with remarkable opportunities for personal growth.

The promotion of language proficiency is a significant attainment for those venturing to Germany and I thank Kirsty Hickman-Davis and Olivia Chapple for their commitment to encouraging and supervising children, other than their own, for the 20 days away.

The second trip to Nepal continues the outreach that has largely been inspired by the Middle School students and Bianca Dujmovic. The cause, to aid the Blue Sky School and Mother Rathan's Orphanage are noble intentions. I take this moment to wish Bianca the very best for her future for she returns from Nepal to then move to Darwin. Her influence on her students and the links with Nepal will long be recalled. Thank you for your time at the School, Bianca.

From the Chaplain

Congratulations Rev’d Michael

I am thrilled to be able to tell you that the Archbishop has announced his intention, God willing, to ordain The Reverend Michael Lane to the Order of Priests on Saturday, November 30, at 10 am, in St Peter’s Cathedral. I ask you to pray for Michael in the weeks leading up to his ordination, and I invite you to join us at the Cathedral to support him on this very special day.

Double congratulations are in order for Michael, as he has also been appointed to a part-time position as Anglicare Chaplain to the North, a position which complements his role as chaplain to Pulteney Grammar School. Well done, Michael, and we wish you every blessing in this new ministry adventure.
Transitions

Many of you would have received an email from Dr Groughan on Sunday informing you that I have accepted an appointment as Parish Priest of the Parish of Plympton. As mentioned in the announcement, I will take up this appointment in late November, but will continue as a Chaplain for Pulteney Grammar School until January 17, 2014.

Leaving Pulteney is not an easy thing to do, but the call to parish ministry has been on my heart since I began considering ordained ministry 13 years ago, and I do believe God is calling me to this particular appointment at this time. I am grateful for the congratulations and good wishes I’ve received since Sunday’s announcement, and I ask you to pray for me in this time of transition.

We have now been able to confirm that my Commissioning service will be at 7:30pm on Friday, 22 November, at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 15 Clayton Ave, Plympton, and I would be delighted if you could join us for the service, followed by celebratory refreshments in the church hall.

Significance, Security, Sacrifice – an Economist’s perspective

On the 5th September eleven Pulteney Grammar School staff and students joined with about 1100 business people, community leaders and students for the South Australian Prayer Breakfast. The purpose of the prayer breakfast is gathering together to pray for our city, our state and our nation, to enjoy breakfast together, and to listen to a guest speaker share their story. This year’s guest speaker was Professor Ian Harper, from Deloitte Access Economics.

One of the things Professor Harper spoke about was being regarded with suspicion by many Christians because he was an economist, and similarly being regarded with suspicion by many economists because he was a Christian. So the first part of his talk focussed on being an economist, and the second on being a Christian. One of the really helpful things he said about economics was that being rich means having both opportunity and choice, and that economics is the study of how you can make more opportunity and more choice – and this can happen in many different ways.

Later Professor Harper said ‘economics matters… but there’s more to life than economics… our wellbeing depends on a good deal more than material prosperity.’ He went on to describe three deep needs we should all be aware of.

The first of these is the need for significance, and the key question associated with this need is, ‘Who am I?’

The second is the need for security, with the key question, ‘Will I be alright?’

The third is the need for sacrifice: ‘What is worth giving my life for?’

The problem with seeking significance through wealth or power is that it only lasts until someone else catches up. The problem with seeking security through material wealth is that it is always vulnerable to loss. The problem with working harder and harder for material prosperity is, as Professor Harper said, ‘If you pay obeisance to the market you’ll find that the market will demand higher and higher sacrifices’.

Where do we turn in seeking to fulfil our need for significance, security, and sacrifice? Now is a good time to consider how each of us might answer this question, so I’ll give you some time to reflect on it, and share with you Professor Harper’s conclusion in two weeks’ time.

Grace and peace,
Sonya
Adelaide Film Festival

BUCKSKIN - winner of the Sydney Film Festival Documentary is showing on Wednesday 16 October at 4.30pm at Palace Nova. This is during Week 1 of next term.

Jack Buckskin is my Kaurna Aboriginal Language teacher and this is a wonderful documentary about his life so far. Many of you met Jack when he and his dance group performed at Pulteney during Reconciliation Week.

'Jack Buckskin grew up on a diet of family and football before life changing events led him on a new path. Jack’s life is now dedicated to renewing a once strong Aboriginal language' ……

Please view the Adelaide Film Festival website.

National Grand Final of Royal Australian Chemical Institute Chemical Analysis Competition.

This coming Saturday, three Pulteney teams of Year 11 Chemistry students will compete in the Grand Final of this national competition, together with over 100 teams from schools throughout Australia.

They are:

Joshua Johnston, Sam Thornton and Jackson Tierney,
Daniel Barnett, Mitchell Brunker and Sarah Tellis,
Vivian Nguyen, Fiona Huynh and Pin Hua Chen.

The South Australian section of the Grand Final is held at the City East Campus of the University of South Australia.

To get to the Grand Final, these three Pulteney teams have successfully completed the first two knockout rounds to be in the best 10% of teams in Australia. Four Pulteney teams started the competition in term 2, with the team of Mitchell Johnson, Matthew van der Sommen and Michael Adler just falling short of the standard required to progress from the State Final round to the Grand Final round.

The analysis these students will perform at the National Final is considerably more demanding than those performed so far. Teams are allowed to introduce variations from the standard method in order to attempt to increase accuracy and/or efficiency. The Pulteney teams have been experimenting with some variations with considerable success and are likely to incorporate these into their analysis methods for this Saturday.

Good luck to the Pulteney Chemical Analysts!

Tigers let loose in Wyatt Hall

With the advent of television talent shows, it was a great privilege that our Grammarphone Choir was treated to a visit by the Trinity Tigers male a cappella choir.

Based at the prestigious Trinity College at the University of Melbourne, this choir was a semi-finalist in “Australia’s Got Talent”.

With a concert performance of classic songs like “Cecilia” and “Bright Lights in the Big City” the choristers enthralled our highly appreciative student audience. The entertainment was certainly amplified by the very well crafted choreography that the boys really ramped up in the Billy Joel’s “Longest time”.

The Tigers then took our Grammarphones in a wonderful workshop of a cappella singing to create an impromptu performance of “Titanium” by David Guetta. With this brilliant workshop of Choral singing our Grammarphones are ready and primed for the Army Band Concert in which they will also be singing on Saturday night in Wyatt Hall at 7pm.

Australian Army Band Adelaide Combined Concert with Pulteney Grammar School

With great excitement our Pulteney music students have been preparing a wonderful night of music for all the family. Rehearsing this week at the Warradale Army Barracks, the ensembles and choirs have been both inspired and challenged to prepare their wonderful programme of music, which they all hope will be to a full house.

With all our major ensembles involved, including the Grammarphones Choir, Jazz on the Terrace, our Stage and Concert Bands, and Drum Corps, this concert is something not to be missed.

Combining in concert with the brilliant musicians from the Australian Army Band Adelaide the night’s entertainment will include music that will both entertain and move you.

Featuring soloists from Pulteney Grammar School and the Australian Army Band Adelaide, accompanied by the combined massed band of over 50 musicians on stage playing and singing music from Michael Buble, the Four Seasons, Disney / Pixar “Les Miserables” and the inspiring John Williams “Midway March” theme, the night will certainly be as memorable as last year’s combined Army concert, but even better!

Culminating in a rousing grand finale, the bands and choirs will both uplift and inspire you.

Entrance is at the door with a paper note donation to Legacy.

There will also be refreshments available before the concert and at the conclusion of the evening.

Doors open at 6.30pm with the concert starting at 7pm
